'Ecce Homo. Zie de mens' is a grand exhibition showcasing the works of 63 Belgian artists in 9 different places, among them the ITM garden. Visit between 17 November 2017 and 25 February 2018 to see the masterpieces of Philip Aguirre y Otegui.

We live in an era in which humanity is violated on different levels; we are more and more confronted with the differences in the freedom of humankind in various parts of the world. This exhibition aims to show the ways contemporary artists in Belgium portray mankind today.

This will be the very first time in Belgium that so many artists, all living in Belgium, of different age and gender, some of whom still emerging while others are of international fame, all come together and present their work focusing on one main universal subject.
